

CREATIVE LABS with Dance House
ON THE STAGE OF THE PRESENT/NADFLY/BAXENDALE
In GLASGOW
MON 13 - FRI 17 JUN 2011

Dance artist Tom Pritchard
Visual artist Nicola Atkinson
Architect Lee Ivett

These workshops will take place in the sites the collaboration between improviser, visual artist and architect will be spending the week asking the question: How can improvisation affect and inform how we might redesign and regenerate an area?

Come to site specific improvisation workshops with Tom Pritchard

June 13 Monday will be at Citizens Rose Garden, Gorbals

June 15 Wednesday will be at a venue in Speirs Lock.

Please meet us outside RSAMDs Speirs Lock studios on Garscube Road at 10am. Both will run from 10-11.30am, please arrive a little early so we can start promptly

Open to all, these improvisation workshops will consider the cyclic dialogue between living environment and the improvising body. How can our improvisation be drawn from our surroundings and and as a result how is our view of our environment renewed and refreshed? The workshops will consider movement and voice as ways to access subconscious response to our world using the writings of Anna Halprin as a starting point.

Please note: Given the non controlled environment participants take part at their own risk
